DEATH UNDER A TUSCAN SUN
GUILLIARD, Michelle
In his final and fastest green, serial killer Daniele Dominici plans his retribution. The bounty he has outlined haunts his dreams until, one night, he escapes. In a small, beautiful village in the Tuscan hills, a young woman is found dead. Another is murdered, and a third is found alive but in a critical condition. As the police inspect the scene they find three satisfyingly graphic: an arm, a head, and a testicle. The police believe a serial killer is loose, but they are unprepared for the horror that is about to be unveiled. – "For those who love a good murder, this book is a treat!" – Booklist
