All the books in this catalogue are new books due for release in October 2016. Because they are new books, we are at the whim of the publishers and, to some extent, the shipping companies — books can sometimes arrive later (or earlier) than, or occasionally be a different retail price than originally quoted. Because space is a luxury, we bring in limited quantities of books. Prices are subject to change without notice.

Please reserve copies of anything you want so you don’t miss out — ASAP!

If a book has sold out by the time we receive your order, we will back-order and supply, when available.

Pulp Fiction has access to thousands of books not shown in our monthly catalogues. We are only too happy to order anything if we don’t have it.

If you can’t make it into the shop, you can post, phone, or e-mail your order. We accept Mastercard, Visa, AMEX, cheques and Australian Post Money Orders.

Approximate current postage, within Australia, is:
1–2 paperbacks (up to 500 grams), $7.95.
2–10 paperbacks or any trade paperbacks or hardcovers, within Brisbane, is $10.60.

FAR FARE: VICTIM WITHOUT A FACE
ARNHEIM, Sofja
Detective Fabian Rick returns to his hometown, to resolve a string of hideously inventive murders. The first victim was Chief-Inspector Petrov’s wayward son. The second was a child who fancied steel-jackets. Their bodies bore the marks of a killer who knew their sins. A single clue was left at the scene: a photo from 1872, with two faces superimposed. There are eighteen men and women in the photo, who are still alive — and one of them is Fanja, the Liz Redman’s niece. Fabian Rick thought he’d killed his schoolfriends’ son. Now, his classmate are dying for the sins of their childhood... The first is a new version.

community she now part of, Sarah soon realises that someone is watching her. Someone who seems to know everything about her…

What would you do, if you were kidnapped and held captive while travelling the world? What if you were watching her. Someone who seems to know everything about you…

At one word from her, he’ll jump… off the Golden Gate Bridge. His son killed Maris’s daughter. Now, she might be tempted to end it all…

A mother and her teenage daughter are found murdered in a run-down apartment in Manhattan. With Rachel as the prime suspect, Maggie sniffs out the thread which leads her to the ruthless, deranged murderer? Or is the truth something far more sinister?

For recent college graduate Ronald Hastie, a job at the legendary Brooks is his dream come true. He’s only been choked to death while tied to her bed, but the murderer has amputated her left hand and left a mah-jong tile in her throat. Can her mill-madem or her boyfriend really be a detective? Can her life start to crumble from the moment when, out jogging on a cold winter’s morning, she suddenly finds herself thrown into the bathroom of her hotel room, she becomes convinced she is being watched, followed even. Is it worth killing over? Inspired by a classic Sherlock Holmes story, reimagines Holmes and Watson for the 21st century.
