THE DEAD GROUND

MCGOWAN, Claire

Fiction

When Fumihiro Kuki is eleven years old, his elderly, enigmatic grandmother tells him that he is a reincarnation of Christ. She tells him that he will beget one last child to dedicate to causing misery in a nation that has forgotten God. But Kuki begins to doubt his grandmother's words. As he grows older, he becomes increasingly isolated from others. Finally, he realizes, as her obsidian gazing ball seems to be telling him, that she is a medium, and that she is able to see the future. Kuki's return to Japan is marked by a series of mysterious events. First, a group of young men break into his house and steal a set of ancient artifacts. Then, Kuki receives a letter from his grandmother, telling him that he must go to Europe to find his father. Kuki sets out on a journey to Europe, where he meets a group of other reincarnations of Christ, each of whom is searching for his or her own father. Together, they travel through Europe, encountering a variety of strange and dangerous situations. But Kuki's ultimate goal is to find his father, and he knows that he must face many challenges in order to do so. Kuki's journey is a之旅 through time and space, as he tries to uncover the mysteries of his past and future. Will he be able to find his father, and will he be able to use his power to change the world? Only time will tell.
